

Sports Law

Report by Peter Agardy

The members of the Sports Law Committee of the Victorian Bar have had discussions with their counterparts at the Law Institute.

There are two initiatives being discussed:

- 1 Joint presentations to suburban and country practitioners on a range of issues with which sports law practitioners can be of assistance to them and their clients, which include local teams and sports associations.
- 2 The establishment of a pro bono register of practitioners who can offer assistance in appropriate cases.